COPC Inc. - A Standard Above the Rest:

The COPC CX Standard, a prestigious performance management system created by COPC Inc. in 1996, focuses on improving service and quality, reducing business costs and customer effort, and increasing revenue and profitability. We've utilized the COPC CX Standard around the globe to assess and help improve thousands of CX operations, including contact centers, retail and face-to-face service environments, and automated or self-service channels.

The COPC CX Standard includes four categories of industry best practices that technology solutions can support: 1. Leadership and Planning, 2. Processes, 3. People, and 4. Performance.

How to become a COPC Inc. Approved Technology Provider

1

Technology Solution Provider (TSP) informs COPC Inc. of interest in seeking Approved Technology Provider designation.

2

Initial discussion is scheduled regarding the technology solution and its potential fit with supporting compliance to the COPC CX Standard in one or more solution categories.

3

Agreement is reached, and TSP commits to at least one (1) employee successfully completing COPC® Best Practices for CX Operations training.

4

A formal evaluation of the technology solution is conducted by COPC Inc., during which the TSP demonstrates how their solution supports compliance to the COPC CX Standard and provides access to successful client installations to be assessed by COPC Inc. as well.
